

100 job descriptions brought to life	BUTCHER	1.1 /4.1
		Eval.

Here is the same text but you have to complete it with the right words. The first letter is given, as is the number of letters for each word to be written.

Tina: Now, Mrs Spectacle, what can I get you today? A nice tender s _____.
 Lovely. And what about your husband who doesn't eat red m _____. That means no b _____, no l _____, no g _____... No o _____ either I believe. Well, I've got some lovely p _____ c _____... Or how about a c _____ leg?
 Ah, he doesn't like p _____ any more. What about a nice slice of r _____ p _____? Oh, that reminds him of his cat. Right. Well, I've got a nice p _____ of ostrich meat. Too exotic? All right. You think he's becoming a vegetarian... Well that's not very good for business, Mrs Spectacle! I can't go selling vegetables!

100 job descriptions brought to life	BUTCHER	1.1 /4.1

Butcher

Monty: Hello Mrs Timberland! I'm Martial, do you remember me? I'm the one who asked you all those questions about your job the other day. Anyway, I wrote my article for my class. Can I read it to you? Ok, here goes:
"Mrs Tina Timberland, who is the wife of Axel, the woodcutter in the forest, told me about her job: she works in a butcher's shop. Her boss chooses and buys the carcasses from the wholesaler. But when the different meats are delivered, it's Mrs Timberland's job to cut them up into pieces to present to the customers. She knows all the techniques for boning, trimming and preparing the meat, tying up a roast, stuffing poultry or making sausages."

.../...

When she serves her customers, Mrs Timberland also gives them advice: which cut is best for which dish, how to prepare the meat, how to cook it, and so on. And in the evening, when the shop closes, they have to clean everything! And that's pretty much what she does."

Is my article ok, Mrs Timberland? Oh yes! That's true! I didn't mention the meals that you prepare for people in a hurry ... or who don't cook! What are they again? Shepherd's pie, cooked meats, roast chicken... oh, so not all butchers do that? Ah I get it, it's when you do catering. I'll add it to my text then! Bye, and thanks Mrs Timberland!

*

In a similar line of work, Tina Timberland could also have been a: pork butcher – tripe butcher – caterer – poulterer – meat boner – stock breeder, etc.

A few words relating to a butcher's work:

Here is a text using a lot of words from the list. Read it carefully, as you will have to use the same words afterwards.

Beef	Bone	Chicken
Cleaver	Cold room	Cut
Dish	Knife	Lamb
Meat	Mutton	Offal
Pâté	Piece	Pork chops
Poultry	Preparation	Rabbit
Roast	Sausages	Stall
Steak	Till	Wholesaler

Tina: Now, Mrs Spectacle, what can I get you today? A nice tender steak, Lovely. And what about your husband who doesn't eat red meat? That means no beef, no lamb, and no game... No offal either, I believe. Well, I've got some lovely pork chops... Or how about a chicken leg? Ah, he doesn't like poultry any more. What about a nice slice of rabbit pâté? Oh, that reminds him of his cat... Right. Well, I've got a nice piece of ostrich meat. Too exotic? All right. You think he's becoming a vegetarian... Well that's not very good for business, Mrs Spectacle! I can't go selling vegetables!