Jeweller

Mr Diamond: Oh yes, Madam Zita, it is a genuine emerald! And believe me, I know what I'm talking about! First of all, I'm a jeweller, and then I'm fascinated by stones, precious or not! Of course I can make you a ring with this emerald. You know, I do repairs and alterations and creations too. Well, obviously, I didn't create all the jewellery you see here. I bought most of the pieces, according to what was in fashion, and what my customers want, naturally...

Take this bracelet, for example I designed it. I made it from gold and silver. Oh yes, you have to be very meticulous in my job! And because I am self-employed, I also have to take care of all the administration, the accounts, the orders and the stock. No, I don't do costume jewellery. I don't do watches either. But I could if I wanted to... Now, what about this ring? Would you like me to prepare some drawings to give you an idea of what we can do with your emerald in your price range? Yes? No problem. Come back next week, Madam Zita, it will be ready then.

In a similar line of work, Mr Diamond could also have been a: goldsmith – enameller – precious stone cutter – clock-maker – glass engraver – craftsman in wrought iron – bronzesmith – glazier – crystal engraver – stained glass window maker – cutler...

A few words relating to a jeweller's work:

Mr Diamond: A necklace, Inspector Polombo? In a tree next to my shop! Well I never! May I have a look at the jewel? If you don't mind, I'll just get my magnifying glass and my tweezers. It's a very good imitation! Oh yes, I'm quite sure! Jewellery is my job, Inspector. You see this stone that looks precious, well, it has been cut in the style of a diamond. And the metal which holds the fake emeralds is not gold. But it is gold plate. It was stolen?! Well, the thief didn't know much about jewels. Or else he was in a hurry. This piece is made of gold plate and has no value whatsoever, Inspector!
